1. Grading Scale and Course Credit

Northstar University used letter grades A through F during the 2025-2026 academic year. A grade of A carried 4.0 quality points, B carried 3.0, C carried 2.0, D carried 1.0, and F carried 0.0. Plus and minus grades were not used. Pass grades earned credit but no quality points; fail grades earned neither.

Undergraduate students needed a grade of D or higher to earn general elective credit. A program could require C or higher in a major course when that requirement appeared in the catalog. Repeating a course placed both attempts on the transcript, but only the later grade entered the institutional GPA.

This policy remains available only for historical questions about 2025-2026. Academic work beginning on or after August 17, 2026 is governed by the 2026 policy.

Grade	Quality points
A	4.0
B	3.0
C	2.0
D	1.0
F	0.0

2. Final Examinations

A course with a scheduled final examination had to use the Registrar's published examination period. An instructor could not move an examination to the final week of classes without approval from the department chair and every enrolled student.

A student with three final examinations in one calendar day could request that the middle examination be rescheduled. The request was due to the Registrar at least ten calendar days before the first day of final examinations.

Missing a final examination without an approved excuse resulted in a score of zero for that examination. Approved reasons included documented illness, bereavement, jury service, military duty, and a direct conflict between two University examinations.

- Three exams in one day triggered rescheduling eligibility.
- The 2025 request deadline was ten calendar days before finals.
- Travel plans were not an approved excuse.

3. Incomplete Grades and Grade Review

An instructor could assign an Incomplete only when a student had completed at least 75 percent of course work with a passing grade and an unexpected circumstance prevented completion. The instructor and student signed a completion plan.

Incomplete work was due within eight weeks after the term ended. If the instructor did not submit a replacement grade by the tenth week, the Incomplete converted to F. A dean could approve one extension for documented extraordinary circumstances.

A student questioning a final grade first contacted the instructor within fifteen calendar days after grades were posted. A formal appeal to the department chair was due within ten calendar days after the instructor's response.

- Minimum completed work: 75 percent.
- Student work deadline: eight weeks.
- Automatic conversion point: tenth week.

4. Academic Standing

An undergraduate student was in good standing with a cumulative institutional GPA of at least 2.00. A student below 2.00 entered academic warning for the next enrolled term.

A student on warning who did not earn a term GPA of at least 2.25 was subject to suspension. The Academic Progress Committee could continue enrollment under a written success plan.

Scholarship standards were separate from general academic standing. A student could remain in good standing while failing to meet a scholarship's higher GPA requirement.

- Good-standing GPA: 2.00.
- Warning-term GPA target: 2.25.
- Consult the scholarship guide for award renewal.
